The play of "Married and Divorced" has been selected for the opening night. This play was written expressly for Miss Wildman, and is well calculated to bring out all the strong points in her acting. Mr. Harry Hudson, the was once a great favorite in this locality, is at the head of Miss Wildman's combination, and will enact the leading male part of the above play.

THE GRAND CENTRAL.—The performance at this popular place of amusement was largely attended last night, standing room during the latter part of the evening being denied to many who were of necessity turned from the doors. Mr. Harry Hudson acquitted himself in his happy style, bringing down the house with his Irish jig, Miss Lottie Padilla and La Belle Padilla, among the others, won many new admirers by their excellent singing and dancing. Base-Ball.

About twelve hundred people assembled on the Blue Stocking Base-ball Grounds yesterday afternoon to witness the game between the Blues and Reds.

The Blues played a strong game, and came within an inch of giving the "pet" another beating. Fisher's balls were batted without any apparent difficulty on the part of the Blues. A beautiful running catch by Snyder was about the only brilliant feature of the game. The score by innings is as follows:

Innings..... 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Blues..... 1 0 1 0 1 0 1 0 0
Reds..... 1 0 1 0 1 0 1 0 0

The game between the Stars and Ecksford was very poorly attended, there being scarcely two hundred people on the grounds. The game was one of very little interest, the Ecksfords being mere straws in the hands of the Stars.

The following is the score by innings:

Innings..... 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Stars..... 1 2 3 4 5 6 7 8 9
Ecksfords..... 1 0 0 0 1 0 0 0 0

From the Council Chamber the guests were escorted to the Cincinnati Hospital, finally rounding into the Exposition where they witnessed a display of the Fire Department, from there being escorted to the suburbs by the Board of Fire Commissioners.

THE INDUSTRIAL PARADE.

The New Telegraph Company.

We have received an important, trustworthy and interesting dispatch this morning from San Francisco, which confirms all that we have said as to the earnestness of the new "National Telegraph Company," and as to the prospect that it will either alone, or in connection with the Atlantic and Pacific, soon present a formidable front of opposition to the Western Union.

Every day progress is made in the formation of arrangements for utilizing existing lines, on the Pacific slope. It does not seem to be borne in mind that the Western Union and Atlantic and Pacific systems extend no further west than Ogden, at which point they connect with thirty-five hundred miles of telegraphic line, covered by the Central Pacific Railway Company, which will probably pass into the possession of the new "National," with other lines through the Western States.

Our San Francisco correspondent informs us that the new company is very soon to open "Construction Departments" at Chicago and in this city, and that an officer of the company leaves San Francisco to-morrow for that purpose. This looks like business, and inclines us to favor the further consolidation of the Atlantic and Pacific with this vigorous and well-backed company.—N. Y. Mail.

Unbated Wheat.

Near the close of the last century, when England and France were waging war with each other, the British Parliament passed a law, to take effect for two years, that the army at home should be supplied with bread made from unbated wheat meal, solely for the purpose of making the wheaten as far as possible.

At first the soldiers were exceedingly displeased with this kind of bread, and refused to eat it, but after two or three weeks they preferred it to fine flour bread. The result of the experiment was that the health of the army improved so much and so manifestly in the course of a few months that the officers and physicians of the army publicly declared that the soldiers were never before so healthy and robust, and the diseases of many kinds had almost entirely disappeared from the army. For a while the health of the army was almost universal in public institutions and private families, and it was pronounced by civic physicians by far the most healthy bread that could be eaten. The testimony of sea captains and whalers is equally in favor of wheaten bread. "The coarser the ship-bread is, the healthier is my crew," said a very intelligent sea captain of over thirty years' experience. The inhabitants at Westphalia, who are a hardy and robust people, capable of enduring the greatest fatigues, are a living testimony to the salutary effects of this sort of bread; and it is remarkable that they are a hardy and robust people, and those other diseases which arise from bad humors.

The total exports of foreign goods, exclusive of specie, for the year ending June 30, 1875, were $338,000,809, against $367,406,351 in the previous year. This shows a trade balance in our favor in the exchange of our commodities other than gold and silver in the year ending June 30, 1875, of $46,387,338. But in the previous year this trade balance in the exchange of commodities other than gold and silver was $89,550,575 in our favor. This trade balance in our favor in the exchange of commodities goes to pay our interest debts to foreign bondholders, and to whatever amount it is deficient for that purpose the balance must be made up by exports of specie. Our net export of specie in the year to June 30, 1875, after deducting $20,894,217 of foreign specie imported, were $23,962,912. If, therefore, we add this to the amount of the trade balance in our favor, we have the amount of $93,339,148, and if we to this add again the amount of money borrowed by the negotiation of new American railroad and other corporate loans during the year, which has been estimated at near $100,000,000, we have a total of $193,339,148, showing that it is not only true that we have not only paid our interest obligations abroad and to furnish money for American travelers in Europe.—Inter-Ocean.
